OLDER AND WISER?

WORK AND RETIREMENT: POLICIES FOR EXTENDING WORKING LIFE

Monday 13 November 2006
Curtin Graduate School of Business - 78 Murray Street, Perth
from 9:00am to 12:30pm

Demographic trends indicate that the majority of our working-age population and, thus, our skill base will be aged 45 and over within a few decades. Adding to this, the Federal Government is currently enacting policy change to extend working lives beyond the age of 65.

Are we prepared for the challenges of an ageing workforce?

Join Keynote Speaker:
Chris Phillipson

Professor of Applied Social Studies and Social Gerontology at the University of Keele

in a panel discussion on the implications of the ageing workforce for Australia.

Professor Phillipson has written extensively on transitions from work to retirement and globalisation and ageing. His most recent books include: Ageing, Globalisation and Inequality (2006) and The Futures of Old Age (2006). Professor Phillipson is a member of the Training and Development Board of the UK Economic and Social Research Council and is President of the British Society of Gerontology.

This symposium is supported by the WA Department of Premier & Cabinet and the Chamber of Commerce & Industry (WA).
