- June 21st The Ebb and Flow of Preterm Milk Composition
The aim of this presentation is to examine the complex nature of preterm milk, and compare its composition to that of term milk. Particular attention is paid to the protein content of preterm milk and potential implications for the nutrition of the preterm infant.
Ylenia Casadio PhD 1L CERP
- July 19th Simultaneous vs Sequential Pumping: Expressing the difference
There is conflict in the literature regarding this practice, Jones et al found difference in milk yield and Hill found no difference in milk yield.
By measuring fat content of milk samples we can calculate the percentage of available milk in a breast. With a research tool called the “Showmilk” we can investigate milk ejections and the physiology of milk removal.
Cathy Garbin Midwife.IBCLC 1L CERP
- Aug 16th A Western Australian Survey of Breastfeeding Initiation, Prevalence, and Early Cessation Patterns
This presentation discusses Western Australian (WA) initiation and prevalence rates differentiating ‘any’ breastfeeding with ‘exclusive’ breastfeeding whilst exploring patterns and reasons for stopping breastfeeding.
Professor Yvonne Hauck RN, RM, BSc (Nursing), PGDip (Nursing), MSc (Nursing),Phd
1L CERP
