- Can be brushed on to create a tear. Start in the corner of the eye and let it run down the cheek.
- Apply with a sponge to the face, using a patting or stippling motion to leave "beads of sweat". More applications will leave bigger beads. forehead, around the nose and cheeks, it will look like sweat.

This product does not dry, so it's great for creating a sweaty look for a long period of time (like a photo shoot or video production).
